Money for Good Roads.

Mr. Appleton, connected with the State Highway Commission, was here this week in reply to a request from the Lancaster Board of Supervisors for 12,500 from the State funds appropriated for the Improvement of Dulie right ways. It is the purpose of the supervisors to utilize this money, if it can be secured, with a similar or larger amount of local funds for the improvement of the main county road improvement of the state of the secured will on the border of Lancaster and Schminned counties. As the supervisors will not meet till Monday, Mr. Apple-

How to Live Long

Through Scientific Observa-tion of the Life of Men and Animals.

The scientists who claim that ife can be greatly prolonged have advanced a theory which is based on animal life as it exists in the jungles. Take, for instance: An elephant lives for several hundreds SERVICE OF JUDGE WRIGHT of years; parrots have a life of two or three hundred years, and other species of animals enjoy several centuries of active life. Now, if we are advocates of Darwin, who claims that man evolved from apes,

In a family where the children are still young few mothers experience the joy of passing a summer without the children becoming sick. As a rule the silment is a trivial one, though it looks very serious. The trouble usually lies in the stormach or bowels, due to a summer cold or to unfit food, water or fruit—the hot-weather dangers. Before becoming alarmed, however, give the child a doss of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN when you put it to bed. The direction sheet that comes with each bottle will tell you the quantity to give, according to the age, and as the remedy is pleasant to take and does not gripe, the child will not refuse it. By morning it will be much improved, and in another day entirely well. That is the experience of thousands of mothers. Give it in DR. CALDWELL'S constipation, billiousness, summer complaint, loss of appetite or sleep, sick headache, peevishness, SYRUP PEPSIN etc. Do not give salts or purgative waters, tablets, pills or sleep-producing remedies that always contain narcotics, for these are unpleasant to take, gripe, and do only temporary good. DESTRUCTIVE FOREST FIRES RAGE FOR MANY HOURS.

HEATHSVILLE, VA., July 24.—One of the most destructive forest fires in years in this section raged all day yesterday and last night throughout the extensive forests on Sunnyside farm, the property of the late 1. T. Smith. All through the night the blazes could be plainly seen by the watchers here, and considerable alarm was felt lest the fire should reach some of the suburban homes.

Nearly the entire male population of the homes.

Nearly the entire male population of the town and surrounding country turned out to check the progress of the flames, and it was only by the heroic efforts of the many buckst brigades that the beautiful and historical old homes of J. Lee Wiggins and J. Beverly Croxton were sayed.

saved.

A large area of valuable timber, several miles of fending and the saw-mill of Herbert Headley, from which the fire originated, were destroyed before the fire was finally gotten under control.

HIS MIND UNBALANCED, ATWOOD KILLS HIMSELF.

ATWOOD KILLS HIMSELF.

PRINCESS ANNE C. H., July 24—
Early H. Atwood, one of the best known citizens of the county, committed suicide last evening by shooting himself with a Winchester rifle, the muzzle of which he placed near his temple, evidently pulling the trigger with his foot. Death was instantaneous.

Mr. Atwood had been in ill health more than a month and it is thought that his mind became unbalanced by this and the idea that he would not be well again.

He had been married three times, his first wife being a Miss Eaton, the second a Miss Dawley, and the third, who survives, a Mrs. Hill. He leaves several children and one brother, R. L. Atwood, who is known all ever this section.

The widow of the victim lost her only brother last year. He also died by his own hand.

ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY AND SUPPORT OF TUCKER

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, VA., July 24.—Councilman J. S. Barron, a young attorney of the city, has confirmed the report that he would be a candidate for Congress from the Second District at the election next year. While willing to receive the support of the alleged or granization in Norfolk, and being generally recognized as an organization men, he corrects the idea he is for Mann in the present gubernatorial race, declaring he is supporting Mr. Tucker.

Comptroller Johnston Resigns.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLIS, VA., July 24.—As previously announced that he would do. Comptroller Robert Johnston has tendered his resignation as a member of the board to City Council, effective August 1. In his letter to his associates on the board he digressed from the substance of his resignation long enough to advise them to "keep out of your meetings anything approaching so-called Senatorial courtesy."

The resignation of Mr. Johnston will be acted on by Council in a Joint session at the regular August meeting. They will elect his successor. It is said that William M. Hannan, Sr., is slated for the position made vacant by Mr. Johnston's resignation. Comptroller Johnston Resigns.

Peterson, a pretty brunette of nineteen summers, was married Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
R. M. Peterson, who reside near Radford, to Robert Colice, a wealthy farmer of Wythe county. Owing to serious illness in the family of the bridegroom
the marriage was a very quiet affair, only the immediate relatives being present. The celebrant was the presiding elder of the district, the Rev. Mr.
Jackson. The honeymoon will be spent in Washington, D. C.

NORFOLK, VA. July 23.—Relly O. Martin, fifty years of age, who was shot by Mrs. John Kane near the Pine Beach post-office on Wednesday evening, died at St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday. The shooting is declared by a number of witnesses to have been in self-defense after the man had abused the woman. Mrs. Kane has not been arrested, and nothing will be done pending a coroner's investigation.

VIRGINIA BOASTS OF A FAMOUS OLD ROAD

To fetch a pail of water; They brought it down most carefully And poured it in the motor. On rough roads rectilinear; 'Good heavens!' said Jack, 'I give it up;

Virginia, though behind some of her sister States along certain lines of progress, can boast of one of the oldest thoroughfares in the United States. When the old Williamsburg Road, lead-ing from Richmond to Williamsburg, passing down the Peninsula through there was not a mile of public road west of the Blue Ridge. The Shenandoah Valley was a wilderness unex-plored by white men, and England was just beginning to repose confidence in the permanency of the little colony on the banks of the James.

Over this road have marched the armies of France, Hesse-Cassel, Great Britain, colonial and national America, and along it have often passed Washington, Lafayette, Patrick Henry, Littleton W. Tazewell, Thomas Jefferson and many other founders, first of the Old Dominion and second of the republic.

Until 1630 the settlements in Virginia were all upon the James River or Accomac shores, and communication between the settlers was chiefly by boat and sloop. Settlements acow began to spread into the interior, as shown by the grants of land, and at first, of course, the communication with the interior was by horse path, generally following some old Indian trail, which, as the settlements extended further inward and counties were formed, grew into roads. Thus the road that passes by William and Mary Collego up the Peninsula follows the Indian trail to by William and Mary College up the Peninsula follows the Indian trail to and others the year around, as, for instance, the roads from Yorktown to Williamsburg and Hampton, which a traveler, according to Fiske, in 1746, pronounced better than most roads in England. He also says: "The roads are some of the best I ever saw, and infinitely superior to most in England."

One writer has said: "The condition of the public roads of Tidewater Virginia was never a source of very grave anxiety to its people until very recent years. So long as there was a hard spot in the road to straddle upon, or a rut so shallow that its bottom was within reach of the cart-tub, the repairing of the road was postponed.

* * The public highways were formerly worked by people living near, who were called upon the road by an overseer. Later the roads are worked by a road tax fund."

Virginia has done wonders with the means she has, and it is no more than who were called upon the road by an overseer. Later the roads are worked by a road tax fund."

Virginia has done wonders with the means she has, and it is no more than right that cities should take an interest in highways. It is unjust to make the heaviest burden fall upon the people through whose lands the roads run. As the whole State gats the beneit, it should help pay the cost. Those most conversant with the subject say that good roads have an intimate relation to better schools, and go so far as to say that good schools and good roads are so closely connected that they will survive or perish together.

Doctors, many of them, are leaving country places on account of bad roads, and so are preachers and many good roads is a good road, and good roads is a good road in the good road is a good road in the good good in the good road is a good road in the good road is a good road in the good road is a good road in the good road in the good road is a good road in the g
